"The Chiming Clocks To Dinner Call"
By Frances Lee Barton
AND modern man demands satisfying meals as strongly as did Pope—even though modern man may not be called to dinner by a collection of chiming clocks. Man has a dessert complex that never leaves him, leading to him is like perfume to a woman or plaything to a child. It's a wise woman who recognizes this and searches for new and novel dessert recipes that call for man's favorite ingredients—a recipe like the following, for instance:
Chocolate Puff Pudding
3 tablespoons milk
1 square unsweetened chocolate, melted
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon doubleacting baking powder
2 egg whites
4 tablespoons confectioner's sugar
Add milk to chocolate and heat in double boiler, stirring until smooth. Add gradually to egg yolks, stirring until blended; add lemon rind, baking powder to egg whites and beat with rotary egg beater until stiff. Fold in sugar. Add chocolate mixture gradually, folding gently but thoroughly. Turn into greased baking dish which has been sprinkled lightly with additional sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Serve with light cream. Serves 4.

22 Years Ago Today . . .

When European nations are trembling on the brink of war and many in this country are being duped by propaganda to the extent of clamoring for America to participate in the controversy that will only lead to bloodshed . . . it might be well to remember that 22 years ago today this nation entered the World War.

And remembering that day in 1917, one can also reconsider these sobering figures:

American Casualties in World War
Killed in action	37,568
Died of wounds	12,942
Wounded, not mortally	182,674
TOTAL	233,184
War cost to U. S.	$41,765,000,000
Interest on war debt	$2,746,740,992
War debt owed U. S.	$13,007,101,382

Those are bare figures . . . now consider the heartaches, the suffering and hardship of the War Years 1917-18! Does that balance the thought of another American entry in the World War of 1939?

County Makes Effort to Collect for Housing City Prisoners In Jail

A burden of 100,000 a year soon may be shifted from the backs of county taxpayers to those in the 44 cities, if county attorneys can find legal means to end the present practice whereby city courts may sentence prisoners to the county jail in lieu of payment of fines to the city.

A number of amendments to the state penal code since the county board has rendered an opinion on the subject, prompted County Auditor J. M. Lowery to ask for a new ruling on whether the county is compelled to maintain city prisoners without recompense from the city.

Statutes of 1925 appear to have given the municipal or police court authority to commit prisoners either to a city or county jail, Lowery pointed out. At present the county collects from cities only for maintaining prisoners committed to the county jail for violations of city ordinances, but makes no charges for violations of state laws. The county jail houses city prisoners for about 100,000 prisoner days each year and the cost is $1 a day.

New Plan Would Transpose Walks and Parkways

Davis proposed that all sidewalks here be located immediately next to the curb line, leaving the parkway space between the sidewalk and the front private property line.

With all trees planted in this parkway, removed from the street or highway, the trees would have a better chance of growth and root expansion and would be less likely of being harmed by trucks or automobiles. Davis pointed out. Maintenance costs would also be reduced, he predicted.

The plan has been approved by the County Forester Spencer D. Turner, who has forwarded it to County Road Commissioner George W. Jones for his approval.
